IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our son and brother, Paul Calvin Brown, 81-c, who was killed in service eight years ago, January 7 1944.

You are gone dear Calvin,
But not forgotten by the ones who loved you.
And as dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of you are always near.
Forget you we never could.
In our lonely hours,
There comes longing thoughts,
If you could only come home.
But we know that is in vain
So we long to meet you,
Where parting is no more.

II

Today brings sad memories,
Of a sad day and a dreadful day,
When you were on duty,
And suddenly taken away.
Though you were so young,
You made the supreme sacrifice,
Bravely gave your all.
The day that awful message came,
We felt our hearts would break,
When they told us you had died.
No one knows how we fias you,
Dear Calvin.

III

Just a line of remembrance
Just a memory fond and true,
Just a token of loves devotion,
That our hearts still long for you,
Dear son and brother.
Sadly mised by mother, father and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brown and Mrs. J. H. Spiggle, Gladstone, Va.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to take this means of thanking my friends for their many deeds of kindness shown during my stay in the hospital—for flowers, cards, gifts and for transportation of those who helped to care for me. To I'd like to say "thanks."
all who have helped in any way,

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh
It's Slim's For An "Honest" Meal
Most people thought Slim Benson would probably go broke when he first started his system of letting customers figure out their own checks over at his big diner on the highway.
Slim trusts them to pay for as much as they eat—you simply tell Sally, his cashier, the amount of your bill. It works, too. Take the other day when Buck Harris told Sally his bill was 75c.
Now I was right there with Buck and I knew all he had was coffee and pie which comes to a quarter. "How come thirty-five cents?" I asked Buck. "Had an extra cup of java the other day, Joe, and forgot all about it—'til now," he says.
From where I sit, most people are basically honest — and that goes for their opinions, too, even though they may be different than our own. I like a glass of beer with my dinner; you may prefer something else . . . but we all ought to be allowed to "figure it out" ourselves.

The A. H. S. Newscast

By Peggy Ellen Cole

Isn't it hard to get settled into the old routine after such a glorious Christmas? Everyone is showing off new things to fellow classmates. From the looks of all the new watches and jewelry, Santa Claus really outdid himself.

The highlight of the holidays was the Christmas dance. There was a large crowd present, consisting of many former graduates. It was wonderful to talk to old friends and classmates. From the looks of the uniforms the armed forces were well represented. From the navy there was Harry Lawson, Vernon Beasley, Monk Carter and Sam Ferguson. Representing the army was Elwood McCormick and Herbert Cawthorn. Sammy Watson and Thomas Mayberry from the Naval Academy, and J. C. Lewis and Charlie Horner from VPI, completed the men in uniform. We hope they'll all be back to see us soon.

Margie Woodson was crowned Cinderella of the ball and Prince Charming was Henry Doss. Margie and Henry were given silver loving cups.

We are sorry to hear that one of our seniors, Dan Carson, is in the hospital with appendicitis. He is on the road to recovery and we hope to see him back at school before long.

Monday and Tuesday are club days at school. If the reporters of each club would give me the news from their club I would like to have it for this column. We all want to know what each club is doing.

The regular meeting of the Tri-Hi-Y was called to order Monday morning. Devotions were held by Rebecca Babcock followed by a business meeting. The boys Hi-Y joined us for the program, after which we adjourned with the Tri-Hi-Y benediction.

The basketball teams have played three games since school opened. Thursday night the game was with Brookneal. The girls won by a score of 47 to 38, but the boys lost, 53 to 45.

The movie "Pennies From Heaven" starring Bing Crosby, was shown to the student body Tuesday. The songs of Bing Crosby made the movie enjoyable to everyone.

All of the news for the week has been covered so I will leave you with this question: Have you bought your annual yet?
